THE VETO.

THE PRESIDENT RETURNS THE BILL WITHOUT HIS SIGNATURE.

The Accompanying Message--The Bill a Violence of the Spirit of the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Army Appropriation bill was returned to the House to-day without the presidential signature, accompanied by a message stating at length the reasons for the veto. The President says if the bill contained no other provisions than those for the support of the army it would receive his prompt approval, but it includes further legislation and involves questions of the grossest character. He recites the statute now in force, which embodied sections 2,002 and 5,528 of the revised statutes, and says the adoption of the proposed amendment may be considered in two aspects: First, as it affects the right of the United States Government to use military force to keep peace at elections; second, as it affects the right of the Government, by civil authority, to protect elections from violence and fraud. He then quotes and calls attention to section 2,002, 5529, 5530, 5531 and 5532 of the revised statutes, and section 15 of the Army Appropriation bill passed June 18, 1878, together with remarks upon the purpose and effect of the latter as stated in the speeches of the Senators and Representatives who supported it. From these laws he says it appears that there can be no military interference with elections, and that consequently there is no necessity for the enactment of section 6 of this bill. He then calls attention to existing laws for the prenvention of discrimination on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude, and to punish fraud, violence and intimidation at Federal elections, and says: In these laws it is the duty of the Executive Department of the Government to enforce. The intent and effect of the sixth section of this bill is to prohibit all civil officers of the United States under penalty of fine and imprisonment, from this purpose at any place where their enforcement is most necessary, viz: at places where Congressional legislation should become the law, there will be no power invested in any officer of the Government to protect from violence the officers of the United States engaged in the discharge of their duties. Their rights and duties under the law will remain but national Government will be powerless to enforce its own statutes. The States may employ both military and civil power to keep peace and to enforce laws at State elections. It is now proposed to deny to the U. S. even necessary civil authority to protect national elections. No sufficient reason has been given for this discrimination in favor of State and against national authority. With regard to the manner in which it is sought to repeal the law authorizing the use of troops at the polls, he says: The object aimed at is altogether foreign to the purpose of an army appropriation bill. The practice of tacking to appropriation bills measures not pertinent to such bills did not prevail until more than forty years after the adoption of the Constitution. It has become a common practice. All parties when in power have adopted it. Many abuses and great waste of public money have in this way crept into appropriation bills. The public opinion of the country is against it. The States which have recently adopted constitutions have generally provided a remedy for the evil by enacting that no law shall contain more than one subject which shall be plainly expressed in its title. The constitutions of nearly all the States contain substantially this provision. Public welfare will be promoted in many ways by the return to early practices of Government and to true principles of legislation, which requires that every measure shall stand or fall according to its own merits. He says this Congress has ample opportunity and time to pass the appropriation bills and also to enact any political measures which may be determined upon in separate bills by the usual and orderly methods of proceeding, but the majority of both Houses have deemed it wise to adhere to principles maintained in the last Congress by the majority of the House of Representatives, namely that the House of Representatives has the sole right to originate bills for raising revenue, and therefore has the right to withhold appropriations upon which the existence of the government may depend, unless the Senate and President shall give their assent to any legislation which the House may see fit to attach to the appropriation bills. To establish this principle is to make radical, dangerous and unconstitutional changes in the character of our institutions; that a majority of the Senate now concurs in the claim of the House adds to the gravity of the situation, but does not alter the question at issue. The new doctrine, if maintained, will result in the consolidation of unchecked and despotic power in the House of Representatives. A bare majority will no longer be what the framers of the Constitution intended—an equal, independent branch of the government. The principle of this bill places, not merely the Senate and Executive, but the judiciary also, under the coercive dictation of the House. The House alone will be the judge of what constitutes a grievance, and also of the means and measures of redress. An act of Congress to protect elections is now the grievance complained of. But the House may, on the same principle, determine that the treaty made by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, nomination or appointment to office, or the decision or opinion of the Supreme Court is a grievance, and that the measure of redress is to withhold the appropriations required for the support of the offending branch of the government. Believing that this bill is a dangerous violation of the spirit and meaning of the Constitution, I am compelled to return it to the House in which it originated, without my approval.

Death of Hon. Eli Shorter.

A LITTLE NEW YORK NEWS.

Whiskey the Cause of so much Crime ---Sunday Liquor Law Must be Enforced.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The General Session's Grand Jury made the present report this afternoon, declaring that the most of the crimes that come under their supervision, were caused by intoxicating liquors, and calling on the Police and Excise authorities to enforce the Sunday liquor law, and recommended that future legislation cause licensed houses to close from 11 p. m., to 5 a. m. Attention was called to the fact that the "Herald" and "Express" were violating the lottery laws in publishing lottery advertisements, and the grand jury recommended the matter to their successors, and also the question of safet yon the elevated rail roads.

Matters Before the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—At the Cabinet meeting to-day the quarantine established at New Orleans by Governor Nichols was discussed at considerable length. Complaint is made by shippers of grain from the upper Mississippi valley that the regulations adopted will virtually amount to an embargo upon the shipments of grain to France and Spain. In view of the fact that Congress has the subject before it in the form of a national health bill, it was not deemed advisable for the executive branch of the Government to take any present action in the matter.

Secretary Sherman made a statement as to the action of banks and capitalists in securing the refunding certificates intended to be distributed among the people. It was the general opinion that there could be no method adopted that would secure the object sought to be attained by the Secretary as there were so many methods by which the certificates could be obtained by the moneyed class without any infraction of law.

The Oldest Richmond Printer Dies.

RICHMOND, April 29.—A. M. Bailey, the oldest printer and publisher in this city died to-day; aged 65 years. In 1830 he entered as an apprentice on the old Richmond Enquirer, then under the control of the late father Ritchie, and subsequently was interested in various newspapers, as foreman, manager and owner. He was one of the organizers of, and the first president of the Richmond typographical union. He was one of Richmond's most respected citizens, and he leaves a stainless reputation.

Death of a Princess.

MADRID, April 29.—The death of Princess Christina, second daughter of the Duke De Montpensier, sister of the late Queen Mercedes and cousin of the present King of Spain occurred in Seville at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. King Alfonso goes to Seville to-day. The infant's remains will be placed near those of the Queen. The Escurial court will go into three months mourning.

Barn Burning.

MEMPHIS, April 29.—A telegram from Starkville, Miss., says this morning twenty-four large barns belonging to Jordan Moore, who resides five miles south of this city were burned to the ground. Suspicion points to a negro named Johnson Spencer who was in the employ of Moore and who was arrested for the crime, but on examination acquitted. Last night Moore's other mammoth barn containing wagons provender, agricultural implements etc., was discovered in flames. This time the incendiary was caught who proved to be a negro named Nevlin Parker. He confessed and also implicated Johnson Spencer and others. To-day about one hundred men heard his confession and hung him to a tree.

THE NEGRO STAMPEDE.

Several Thousand Ready to Start---A Destitute Band in Arkansas--- Jay Gould Offers Free Transportation Further West.

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—The Colored People's National Immigration Board has received information that several thousand negroes are now at different places along the banks of the Mississippi river below Memphis, ready to start north as soon as transportation can be procured or are preparing to leave their homes for St. Louis and beyond. One party of nearly one hundred are now at Lake Port, Chicot Co., Arkansas, almost destitute. It is said steamers refuse to transport them, and that the whites in the vicinity refuse to sell them provisions. About two hundred refugees have been sent West since Saturday last. It is understood that Jay Gould has offered free transportation for them west of Kansas City and they will probably go to Lawrence, Kansas.

Sitting Bull a British Subject.

OTTAWA, ONT., April 29.—A special dispatch from Washu to the St. Paul Pioneer, having stated that it had been decided by the Secretaries of War, State and Interior that Sitting Bull is a Bristish subject. Mr. Schultz, Member of Parliament for Manitoba, has given notice that he will on Wednesday ask whether the Government has any knowledge thereof.

No Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Both Houses of Congress adjourned soon after assembling to-day in respect to the memory of the late representative Clarke.

Alexander the First.

TIRNOVA, April 29.—The Bulgarian assembly of notables to-day unanimously elected Prince Alexander to the throne of Bulgaria with the title of Alexander the first.

Meeting of Railroad Men.

Charlotte Observer.

Representatives of railroads in North Carolina held a meeting in Raleigh Saturday for consultation in reference to the law relating freight charges passed by the Legislature. Many vexed questions have arisen in the attempt to arrange the new freight tariffs rendered necessary by the provisions of the law, and the roads are not disposed to decide these without mature codsideration and ample opportunity to obtain trustworthy legal advice on all the points involved. Hence nothing was definitely settled at the last meeting, but the business was so arranged that it may not be necessary to hold another meeting, unless still further complications arise. As soon as the attorneys who have been consulted on the subject shall have examined the case fully, the roads will probably publish their tariffs. In the meantime freights remain the same as they have heretofore been.

The Effect of the Veto.

What the N. Y. Herald Thinks.

What will happen when the veto is announced is as yet uncertain to-night, that either the Democratic wild men will have to give way and take back seats or they will see themselves in a very ridiculous minority.

Whatever blustering there may be on both sides during the next few days; the one certain event is that the appropriation bills will be passed at this session in regular order without the riders, if that is made necessary by voters, and that if this is not done by the democrats as a body it will be done by democratic and republican votes together. It follows that the cry of "revolution" need not bo heeded by anybody. It is an evidence that the republicans would like to carry the next election on a false issue, and that is all. Senator Davis, of Illinois, spoke truly when he said the other day that on any real question both parties would split to pieces at once, and this whole turmoil and thunder is only a device by the leaders of both parties to avoid real questions so as to keep their organizations together a little longer.

THE FANATIC GARRISON.

WHAT HE THINKS OF THE NEGRO EXODUS.

His Flings at the South---A Reign of Wrong---A Subversion of the Constitution.

The following is the text of a letter from William Lloyd Garrison to a meeting in Fanueil Hall, Boston, Thursday: The spectacle of thousands of half-naked empty-handed, despairing men, women and children fleeing as for their lives from one part of the country to another, and preferring to risk starvation and death by the way rather than remain where they naturally belong, is one calculated to move pitying Heaven and to awaken all that is sympathetic and generous in the human breast. Their claims for immediate charitable relief are equally just and imperative; and it is most gratifying to perceive a disposition in various directions to minister to the wants of these poor outcasts. By nothing that they have done, on the score of idleness, dissipation or disorderly conduct, have they brought this suffering and exposure upon themselves. On the contrary, they have been the only industrious, unoffending, law-abiding and loyal portion of the population in that quarter, with but few exceptions; and yet their safety is only in flight!

A DUTY AFTER RELIEF.

While, therefore, grave, exciting and relatively important as the present exodus of a few thousands of colored refugees from Mississippi and Louisiana may be, it is only an incident of the hour, demanding succor and aid in various forms until they have time to select their dwelling-places. But what of the 4,000,000 of colored people in the entire South? Their exilement is a question not to be seriously entertained for a moment, either as a desirable or possible event. The American Government is but a mockery, and deserves to be overthrown, if they are to be left without protection, as sheep in the midst of wolves. If the Nation, having decreed their emancipation, and invested them under the Constitution with all the rights of citizenship, can neither devise nor find a way to vindicate their manhood, then its acts have been farcical, and the local usurpation of a contemptible body of aristocratic factionists is more than a match for the loyalty and strength of the American people; and it is the latter who are as effectually "bulldozed" as the colored people themselves.

But, gracious God! is this widespread escapement from unendurable wrong and outrage to be treated as simply furnishing an occasion for the exercise of a benevolent spirit toward our suffering fellow-creatures? If they are deserving of the deepest commiseration, what shall be said of those by whom they have been "peeled, meted out and trodden under foot?" If there is scope for tender pity on the one hand, is there not also for intense moral indignation on the other? No such stress of circumstances should have been possible under the American Government; nor could it have occurred if we had such a Government, worthy of its name, its pretensions and its claim to universal allegiance. But, so far as the South is concerned, it is practically non-existent in the matter of securing "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," to all who dwell on its soil as a natural and lawful right.

THE SOUTHERN REIGN OF WRONG.

There conspiracy and usurpation successfully bear sway. In all the late Rebel States there scarcely exists a single legitimate State administration, for no election has been permitted without being more or less controlled by fraud, intimidation and lawlessness. The two Senators from South Carolina at Washington, Hampton and Butler, are occupying seats to which they were not honestly elected, and their faces should become crimson every time they enter the Senate chamber. If they had their deserts, instead of presenting their visages in the capitol Hampton would be in the penitentiary, and "Hamburg massacre" Butler be lying in a grave of infamy, according as crimes are adjudged and punished in a civilized community. The political party now tumidly claiming to be rightfully in the ascendant in both houses of Congress, owes its supremacy solely to the support of a "Solid South," made such by fraud, terrorism and murderous violence; and by that "Solid South" it is ruled as abjectly as was ever a plantation slave under the lash of a slave-driver.

FREEDOM'S BATTLE TO BE FOUGHT OVER AGAIN.

It is clear, therefore, that the battle of liberty and equal rights is to be fought over again, not in a party sense in the ordinary use of that term, but by the uprising and consolidating of a loyal, freedom-loving North, overwhelming in numbers, resolute in purpose, invincible in action, and supreme in patriotism based upon impartial justice and all-embracing citizenship. Let the edict go forth, trumpet-tongued, that there shall be a speedy end put to all this bloody misrule; that no disorganizing Southern theory of State rights shall defiantly dominate the Federal Government to the subversion of the Constitution; that the millions of loyal colored citizens at the South, now under ban and virtually disfranchised, shall be put in the safe enjoyment of their rights—shall freely vote and be fairly represented—just where they are located. And let the rallying cry be heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast: "Liberty and equal rights for each, for all, and forever, wherever the lot of man is cast within our broad domains!"

The Omnibus Bill.

AMONG THE ARPS.

MR. AND MRS. ARP TRY TO GET THEMSELVES RIGHT.

How He Came to Go on His Lecturing Jaunt--Mrs. Arp protests Against the Use of Her Name.

Written for the Atlanta Constitution 27th.

It was my time to go. Mrs. Arp said it was for I looked puny and she thought a small excursion would do me good. A rolling stone gathers no moss and as I dont like moss I concluded to roll. When she went away the motto was a settin hen never gets fat.

For six months Ive stayed right close at home and I felt my feelings was a feeling stagnant. A man can keep on doing a thing untell he settles down in a bed of inertia and dont want to get out of it. By and by he gets deeper and deeper and has to be prised out or else he becomes fossilferous. Some men get fossiliferous rummin after money and keep on and keep on a long time after they got enuf. Some get fossiliferous in hackerin after offiee and keep on and keep on long after they've played out.

My good wife was a thoughtful observer of my brief preparations. She carefuly repaired the shattered linen, got me a fresh handkerchief out of that same old trunk, ironed out the wrinkles in my black cravat, and brought forth a new pair of socks which she knit more than a year ago. When I was all fixed up she perused me with unusal interest and said: "now William, dont forget how to behave yourself for what—with your foolishness in the newspapers and your little slanders of me and the children—you have gotten somewhat notorious and the people will be watching you. Dont you give them any chance to talk about you. Dont gas around. Dont try to show off, and above all things dont go to flying around the women." (I knowed that was a coming.) "If theres anything in the world I do despise it is to see a man with a wife and children making a fool of himself about other women. You wont, will you?"

"I will not my dear," said I, "I never do. Your sweet and patient face is always before me. You are the bright particular star that—"

"Well, never mind the stars," said she, "I haven't got up there yet. Kiss the children a good-by and go along, and I hope you will have a good time."

So I departed those lovely coasts amid the fond embraces of my numerous wife and offspring and now find myself the midst of the central city, where I'm having such an elegant time I don't want to go back—not yet.

I'm sorter like the old cow who had to be pulled by the horns up to the slop pail and pulled by the tail away. I'm delighted with Macon and her refined and intelligent people. There is nothing crowded here and nobody in a hurry. When a horse runs away there is plenty of dodgin room. The heights that surround the city look like Arlington, and are adorned with grand, beautiful residences, where the nabobs live in elegant luxury. Most everybody is rich. The business men wait for trade but don't run after it. When a friend comes to see em they order a carriage, and shut up the store and ride him to Vineville and Arlington and the Central park, and if some other fellow gets the trade while they are gone they don't care a darn. Colonel Hardeman came to see me and was the same genial gentleman he always was. He said there were four important things about Macon that needed the fostering care of the people, and must be protected at all hazzards, which was the blind asylum, the female college, the agricultural society and Hardeman's warehouse. He went off last night to make a speech for the ladies of Thomaston, which his private secretary told me, upon honor, was the 297th since the war. If the ladies could only vote he would be elected governor as long as he lived. I ain't sure but what he's the coming man anyhow, for if our good governor won't run the next time I dont know of anybody who has got more friends. His apple is about ripe. He thought it was several years ago, but I reckon he was mistaken. But its ripe now. Theres a heap of apples on the gubernatorial tree. Some of them are green and sour—some are half rotten. The yaller jackets have bored into some like a slander gimlet; some look mighty smooth and pretty on one side, but have got an ugly flaw on the other, and some are rotten at the core. But the colonel is like a big ripe red round smooth skin apple that hasn't a speck or pimple and smells as sweet as a juicy girl. Some of his friends told me that we must make him govenor—that it was a matter of imminent necessity for the pressure was so great upon him the fear was that he might speak himself to death. They said that it was impossible for him to dodge it; that he tried various little white lies and prevarications saying that "other previous engagements," etc., but now they wrote him six months, and twelve months, and two years in advance, so as to be in time.

Well, we will all see about it, colonel, and do the very best we can.

BILL ARP.

THE MADAME PAYS HER RESPECTS TO "THAT HUSBAND OF HERS."

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: I've allus hearn it said by them what knowed that the only way to git even with the divil is to fight him with his own fire, an I never exzacly understand jest what wuz the meanin of that proverb afore. We aint never too old to larn, howsomever, an though I'm up in the fiftys, I hed jest now learnt how to git at the kerrect meanin of that old sayin, an I'm agoin to use it for the cause of womans rights. Here Mr. Arp's been infringin on my name so long till I'm troubled nigh on to distracshun, and its been gittin worse and worse for ten years, till I'm actually afeared to look into a newspaper, kase I might see sumthin agin my good name an my good sense. I hev tried to make him stop it by beggin and teachin an prayin an scoldin an threatnin an every other thing, but it ain't no use. You might jest as well try to make a blind mule quit kickin. My friends hez been advisen me to writ a piece for the newspapers for many a day, an I'm jest through findin out that they hev been tellin me the right thing to do, and if I dont quit even with Mr. Arp you may choke me to death on ingun tops fur a month. I hev tried mighty hard to keep from writin him up in the papers, but women hez feelins jest as well as men, an I dont kere what any body sez agin it, I'm agoin to show Mr. Arp that somebody else can write letters an poke fun at other folks besides him. I don't keer about gettin mixed up in the papers myself, like one of my nabors hez mixed, but I'm jest agoin to show all the folks that I ain't nigh as big a fool as Mr. Arp makes out. Everybody thinks he's powerful smart, and here they've bin invitin him all around to Macon and Dalton and Forsyth and sich places, to make lectures and give addresses to schools and the like, jest like he was some big man like Mr. Luster or Mr. Felton, and I do believe he's jest common enuff to go ever where they axes him—that is if they pay his way an give him his board with washin throwed in. He makes believe as how he don't want to go off a bit, but I knows him too well for that. If he could git anybody else to sow on buttons, an darn his socks, and tie his cravat an comb his hair an the like, I don't believe he ever would come back agin. But sich is life. We women do hev a hard time. I've been threatened for many a day to take my nabor, Mrs. Freeman's, advice an git devorced, but I'm just afeard he's made everybody think I'm sich a lunacy that I can't even hire out for a washwoman. Why, bless me, he said I didnt even how what good lace was, an I know if theres any woman in Georgia who can tell it bettern me I jest want to see her. I've seed lace all my life. I never did wear any thing but the yellerest kind of lace an I never will to my dyin' day. Mr. Arp he says he didn't mean to hurt my feelin's about that lace, an jest said it to make the folks laff, but I aint agoin to be run down an made a fool of for nobody to laff at. Narry time. This trouble hez been goin on for nigh thirty years, an hev raised ten children, an there aint but one runt in the lot of 'em an he aint too old to grow yet, for he's jest twenty o this month an is as pretty as any gal, an I've worked an sowed an darned an patched for every one of 'em with the old man throwed in an I never get any thanks at all excep to be made a fool of in the newspapers. Mr. Arp is jest a little too upity for his raisin. He's gettin purnickity cause away from home everybody thinks he's perfeeshun perfectorfied, but they am mighty mistaken about that. Just let em step down in the kitchen some morning an hide around an see. I don't want no man foolin around my kitchen, but I can't begin to keep Mr. Arp out of there, so I jest let him do the cookin. You see, he larned how to cook in the army, and he jest thinks there aint nobody as can cook like him. I've been trainin him for many a day, an now I hev him purty well broke in, an he's gettin used to it, and he gits up in the mornin an never says a word agin it, but goes down and starts the fire and goes to gettin breakfast just as natural as anybody, and lets me sleep on till hits ready to eat. Mr. Editur, I love to sleep in the mornin, and whenever Mr. Arp lets me sleep just as long as I want, I begin to feel sorter sorry for him, poor man and I don't think I orter say anything agin him for writen me up in the papers, but jest think of that lace and all my good meanins go right out of my mind. I don't wonder if folks ever will think I know lace, rale lace agin. But I reckin its time to stop, kase I don't want to take a whole side of your paper just to settle family disturbances. I ain't been hard on Mr. Arp, hev I? I'm just a warnin him. If he ever says anything agin me agin, wont you jest scratch it out and stick in somethin again him, and jest let me know what it was he said, an if me an the gals don't pull ever hair out of his head I'll die afore I'm buried, shore. If I rasin his hair don't quiet him, you will hear from me agin. Like as I don't know lace. Yours truly. MRS. ARP.

Queen Victoria's Abdication.

London Cor. Dundee Advertiser.

Rumors of a vague but somewhat alarming character have been current for some days with regard to the health of the Queen. I have not hitherto alluded to these reports, but they have become so persistent that it would be useless longer to ignore the existence. It is said that for some time past Her Majesty's health has not been in a very satisfactory state. The death of Duchess of Hesse gave her a shock from which she has not recovered, and the fatigue incident on the celebration of the marriage of the Duke of Connaught exercised a depressing influence on her health. The journey to Italy is not a mere holiday trip. Sir W. Jenner, considered that a change of scene and an almost entire absence from official duty of any kind were necessary for the Queen, and this is the reason why she has buried herself on the secluded shores of an Italian lake. It is no doubt in consequence of the somewhat gloomy statements regarding Her Majesty's health, which are passing in society that other reports connected with the succession to the throne are also current. It is said that unless a considerable change in Her Mer Majesty's health takes place she will no longer be able to discharge the functions which belong to the sovereign of the country, and rumor points to the possibility of an abdication. It is an undoubted fact that since the departure of the Queen for Italy the prime minister has several times seen the Prince of Wales. On Tuesday he had an terview with his royal highness of more than an hour's duration, and the prince would seem to be since to some extent discharging the duties of the Queen with regard to public affairs during her absence in Italy. In a matter where there is necessarily a good deal of speculation it would be idle to make definite statements, but there are those who think that a somewhat startling surprise is in store for Parliment before the present session closes.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company.

It is understood that at the last meeting of the Trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, the committee which has had the subject of retrenchment in expenses under consideration for the past two months, made a report, in which important economies were recommended. The report is stated to have received the unanimous concurrence of the Board.

The principal features of the recommendations made by the committee related to a reduction in salaries, advertising, printing, law, medical and other expenses.

The purpose of the committee is represented to have been, after full consultation with the officers of the company, to so adjust the economies proposed as not to impair in any way the capacity of the institution to conduct its business in the most effective and successfull manner. It is said that the chief officers of the company, including the President, expresse to the committee a desire that they should participate in any sacrifice that might be deemed advisable, in order to adjust the scale of expenditure to meet any prospective diminution of income from the reduced rate of premiums recently adopted, or from the depressed condition of the money market in causing the rate of interest on investments to recede below existing rates.

As the company has, for many years, computed its surplus upon a basis of an income of four per cent. from investments, it seems pretty well entrenched against any further probable decline in the value of money, so that the economies to be put in practice will result in an augmentation of dividends to the policy-holders, in excess of what they would otherwise have been.

A Negro Found Dead.

MEMPHIS, April 29.—The mutilated, decomposed remains of a negro was found a few days since in the swamp ten miles north of this place, supposed to be that of Bill Gilmer, who shot Attorney J. Wood 6 weeks ago. When discovered, 2 bullet holes were found in his breast.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

STABBED AND KILLED--A KNIFE ENTERS THE HEART.

Revival in Newbern---Fire Department Inspection in Charlotte.

Mecklenburg.

Charlotte Observer: One of the candidates for mayor is the oldest citizen of Charlotte. He is in his eighty-sixth year——The courts were again idle yesterday. There has not been a case before the mayor in a week——There are at least a half dozen two year old blooded colts in and around Charlotte, which promise to become fine racers. Several of them will be put on the track for training this spring——Yesterday was a big day with the firemen, being the occasion of the annual inspection and parade. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Mayor Smith and Alderman Dowd, Wilson and Tatum, the three last named composing the fire committee of the board accompanied by officers of the fire department, visited the houses of each of the two companies, and made a through inspection of these and of all the apparatus. They found everything in a most excellent condition and in most perfect order. Among the latest improvements is eighteen hundred feet of new and improved hose distributed equally among the three engine companies.

Craven.

Newbern Nutshell: Wednesday next is election day and the citizens of Craven are to decide whether or not the county debt shall be funded——Mrs. McPherson, the Quaker lady who recently conducted a revival in Beaufort will arrive in this city to-morrow morning, and be in attendance at a protracted meeting to commence in New Street Methodist church to-morrow night—The Old Dominion Steamship Company, on and after Friday, May 2nd will run the Steamers Newbern and Palmico to benefit the truckers of this section.

SNAG.

Catawba.

Hickory Press: Wednesday night, April 23rd, two colored convicts, Peter Eaves, of Lincoln, and Robert Shaw, of New Hanover, at the Narrow Gauge stockade near Hickory, had a quarrel, then a fight, which resulted in the death of the latter. Shaw knocked Eaves down, then Eaves struck him in the side with a knife which entered the heart, then cut him again on the arm, in the breast and cut his throat. Shaw died almost instantly. It is said no blame can be placed upon the guard or any officer as the fatal blow was struck before it was known and done so quickly that no disturbance was raised. The boy was buried Thursday in the colored Graveyard in Hickory.

New Hanover.

Wilmington Review. Col. Henry G. Flanner has been selected by the Ladies' Memorial Association as Chief Marshal for Memorial Day and has, we understand, accepted the honor. Col. Flanner was a gallant soldier, having served with much distinction throughout the entire war, and the selection is certainly a most appropriate one.——In compliance with a general order from Adjutant General Jones an election for field officers of the Fifth Battalion N. C. State Guards was held in this city yesterday.——There are already in this city 16 fire cisterns, with a capacity of 5,450 barrels. Seven more are to be built at once, with a capacity of 2,455 barrels. The cost of the latter is to be $1,700.

Surry.

Mt. Airy Visitor: Mr. Winston Fulton has purchased a lot in town on which to build a tobacco factory.——Once more Mt. Airy is full of life and animation, and is certainly assuming something of its former prosperity.——The Baptist church building is approaching completion, and a handsome edifice it is, and on the prettiest site in Mt. Airy.

No name, in its legendary and historic associations, has a stronger claim on New York than that of "St. Nicholas." The great Metropolis perpetuates and emphasizes this in the standing of the great hotel which illustrates the name of an illustrious patron saint, dear to all from its association with good cheer, enjoyment and hospitality. "Facile princeps" among the finest metropolitan inns, the "St. Nicholas" sustains the reputation of its long life, and in its rooms, furnishing, cuisine and general accommodations, is now, as ever, the most delightful of resting places for the stranger to the great American capital.

The Swepson Trial.

Correspondence of the News.

LOUISBURG, April 27.—On a call of the docket to-day the Swepson trial was set for Thursday next. It is thought, however, an effort will be made to continue. W.

Respites by the Governor.

It appears that owing to false hopes held out to the Chapel Hill burglars, Davis, Andrews and Carlton that their sentences would be commuted, the Governor in order to enable them to better prepare for their bitter end has granted them a respite for two weeks until Friday May the 6th, and the Sheriff of Orange has been requested to say to them that no further interference will be made. This shall be their final doom.

Bob Boswell, colored, who was to be hanged on Friday, May 2 at the earnest solicitation of Solicitor Studwick has been granted a respite until Oct 31 next in order that his testimony may be used in a capital case now pending in Orange Superior court.

A Word to the Ladies.

The ladies of Raleigh will be glad to learn that they can do as well by purchasing dry goods, notions, etc., as can, from home merchants as they can by sending North by mail every time they wish to make a few purchases in this line. Our merchants are certainly selling at prices as low as the Northern merchants, and then you know there is nothing like patronizing home industry. Give the merchants a chance say we.

A Regular Regulator.

Mr. John S. Austin, general agent for the famous Simmons Liver Regulator by J. H. Zeilin & Co., of Philadelphia, was in the city yesterday. He represents one of the best standard medicines in the country and illustrates the meaning of the word "push" as much as any gentleman we have ever seen. He is a well "regulated" man and sells the best "regulator" in the trade. "Regulate" yourself accordingly by taking the "Simmons Liver Regulator" you see so regularly advertised all over the city.

Died.

——Johnston court this week.

——The skating rink is still the most popular resort in the city.

——Never so cheap before. One hundred cabbage plants for 10 cents.

——There will be a special meeting of Raleigh Chapel, No. 10, to-night at 7½ o'clock.

——"She stoops to conquer" said a Dawson street husband as his wife reached under the bed to get a slat with which to convince him that it was wrong to stay out all night.

——The funeral ceremonies of the late Mrs. C. A. Lewis, took place from the Salisbury Street Baptist Church, Sunday at 11 o'clock, and were attended by a large number of sympathizing friends of the deceased.

——Mr. A. L. Lankau the gentleman who is doing the frescoing at Wake Forest College, was in the city yesterday. He contemplates doing work in this city if he can secure any orders and for that purpose has an advertisement in this morning's NEWS. He is highly recommended as a first class artist in his profession.

——Mr. Geo. T. Cooke is building the two brick store houses on Wilmington street for Messrs. Rand & Barbee Bros., and Mr. A Horne, of Clayton. He is a first class builder and can do good work at less cost than most men going.

——Mr. W. R. Blake one of the leading property owners of this city is doing much to enhance the value of real estate. When completed it will be one of the handsomest in the city.

The BaptizingSunday.

The pond at the grist mills of Gattis & Jones, south of this city presented a very animated scene on Sunday last. A large crowd both white and black had gathered there to witness the baptism by immersion of eleven converts to the colored Christian church, more generally known as Hayes church.

The water was cold but the converts had good nerves and stood the test with unflinching fortitude except two who more demonstrative gave vent to their vociferations in the manner usual to such occasions.

The Work of the Fish Commission.

Mr. W. M. Russ, special agent of the State Fish Commission whose line of operations lay principally at the Avoca Fisheries has been in the city for a few days past and reports the result of the work so far as most satisfactory. He has just finished supplying the streams with young shad and he says all the fisheries are in an unusually fine condition. The Roanoke received 200,000; the Neuse, 125,000; Trent, 125,000; Tar, 100,000; Cape Fear, 200,000; Nantihala, 1,000,000.

This makes about 2,000,000 shad deposited in the fish producing streams of this section and of itself will be worth much more to the people than the entire cost of the commission annually. Mr. Russ returns to his work at Avoca to-day. He likes it very much and only has one complaint to make. The mail facilities from Franklin, Va., by the mail boat are in a very uncertain shape; the mail boat has been attached for debt and for the past few weeks has been laying to at Plymouth.

Raleigh as a Tobacco Market.

We have listened to much talk during the past ten years or more concerning the boundless resources of North Carolina and what might be done, if only capital, energy and enterprise could be turned to their development. It has been so thoroughly stated, that, no doubt exists, that for all the purposes of a great agricultural and manufacturing State none other has superior natural advantages, and all, whether high or low, firmly believe it. Talk, therefore, has accomplished much and has done it well. With this start it is now hoped that talk after having performed its part so admirably will be permitted to rest, or what perhaps is better, it is turned over to politicians for their use and profit.

What the State, and especially Raleigh, wants from this time forward, is work, aspiring as she does, to rank among the large and influential inland cities of the South. Nothing is plainer than that Raleigh may surpass Richmond, Petersburg, Danville, Durham, Winston, and other cities as a tabacco market. To realize this it is only necessary that one or two factories be started for the manufacture of first-class brands of both chewing and smoking tobacco. The erection of other factories will follow, and ere we are aware, large warehouses will stand on lots now vacant and tobacco sales advertised in the city newspapers daily. Tobacco raisers and buyers would come in from every direction.

In the counties east and south of Wake its culture would be introduced and a territory opened up to a new source of wealth. Wayne county has already commenced, and during the past year has taken to market some of the finest leaf sold.

In some of those counties, when tobacco has for years been the principal crops, the lands have become worn out, and as a consequence new fields are sought. Already, besides Wayne, its culture is gaining ground over the section of which Raleigh is the natural market. Farmers at a distance would be more than repaid by bringing their tobacco to a market like Raleigh, where more liberal inducements are offered by our large wholesale and retail merchants than at any point south of Baltimore.

See what enterprise has done for Durham and the farmers of Orange and adjoining counties. See what it has done in Salem and Winston. Six or eight years ago the counties of Forsyth of Stokes, Yadkin and others may have "talked" as we have, but Winston's work has demonstated to all and they are now thriving and reaping the benefits of their resources.

Our railroad connections would largely contribute to make this a most available center for the tobacco trade. Let our capitalists go to work now, and erect tobacca factories. This will give employment to hundreds of our citizens both white and colored, who would be paid weekly; and our wealthy landlords would have thrifty and prompt paying tenants, and our merchants cash customers.

Stamps for Unpaid Matter.

It is announced that arrangements have just been completed with the American Bank Note Bompany for the manufacture of the new stamps for partially unpaid matter sent through the mail. Under existing regulations, the amount is simply marked on the package at the office from which it is sent, and many times the postmaster fails to collect it. When the stamps are completed the delivery office will be compelled to affix stamps representing the deficit, and will settle for them in his quarterly accounts The stamps will be of the same size as the regulars but, instead of the vignette in the centre, there will be the numbers 1, 2, 3, 5, these being the denominations to be issued. On the circle surrounding the figure will be engraved on the upper are, "unpaid postage," and on the lower, "one cent," or the other amount correspondent with the figure. The department is now having designs prepared for the internal postal card, authorized by a recent act of Congress, to comply with the terms of the Paris Postal Card Convention.

A Remarkable Counterfeit.

Money handlers will be interested to know that the secret service has come into possession of a most remarkable counterfeit. It is a counterfeit $20 United States legal tender note, and is calculated to deceive even persons accustomed to handling notes of that denomination. What makes it the more remarkable is the fact that the work on the note was executed with a pen and ink. All the intricate figures and curves, all the heads, the seal, the fine engraving work, and even the fibre in the paper, are almost perfectly counterfeited by pen and ink. The signature of John Allison, formerly register of the treasury, is almost exact, while that of John C. New, formerly treasurer, is perfect. The whole bill, back and face, is a wonderful piece of pen-work. The bill was detected at the sub-treasury in New Orleans.

Nrrow Escape From Fire.

Sunday night about 8 o'clock, while the citizens were crowding the churches, a house in the eastern section of the city, occupied by Mr. Tuner Pulley and his family was discovered to be on fire. Mrs. King, who lives opposite, was returning from a visit to a person who lives in the adjoinng building was the first who discovered the fire and gave the alarm, which speedily brought the neighbors out who put it out. Upon close examination it was found that some miscreant had placed a quantity of kindling wood under the house near the chimney and set it on fire, which if not for the timely discovery would have caused an extensive conflagration as some four or five wooden buildings were in close proximity. Officer Linke, who was sent for arrested Susan Dunn and her daughter Ella who lived in the same yard, upon suspicion, which seems to have been well founded as upon investigation before Mayor Manly, Ella Dunn was sent to jail.

The Death Rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant organ. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

A Celebrated Sauce.

Forty years or so ago Lea & Perrins began the manufacture of Worcestershire Sauce. It quickly became a favorite Sauce on account of its peculiar piquancy, and when Mr. Sour, the celebrated chef-de-cuisine of the Reform Club, gave it his approval, its appearance on the Tables of all the other clubs of London followed as a matter of course. Then its use was began in the cuisine of the leading Hotels in all parts of the world. Wandering Englishmen carried it about with them in all kinds of climates, and found to their delight that long voyages on shipboard did not impair, in the least, its flavor or pungency. It was literally 'presented to the Queen' in 1846, and on the strength of this was admitted without question to every house in London. This honor did not cause the opinion of epicures to change in the least, as they had already dicovered its good qualities. One of them said in 1843, "that it had destroyed the force of the adage," appetite makes the best sauce, and his friends thought the remark just as well as witty. Nowadays the zest it imparts to all dishes, from Turtle and Salmon to plain beef, makes it a favorite with young housekeepers as well as with epicures.

THE VETO.

THE PRESIDENT RETURNS THE BILL WITHOUT HIS SIGNATURE.

The Accompanying Message--The Bill a Violence of the Spirit of the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Army Appropriation bill was returned to the House to-day without the presidential signature, accompanied by a message stating at length the reasons for the veto. The President says if the bill contained no other provisions than those for the support of the army it would receive his prompt approval, but it includes further legislation and involves questions of the grossest character. He recites the statute now in force, which embodied sections 2,002 and 5,528 of the revised statutes, and says the adoption of the proposed amendment may be considered in two aspects: First, as it affects the right of the United States Government to use military force to keep peace at elections; second, as it affects the right of the Government, by civil authority, to protect elections from violence and fraud. He then quotes and calls attention to section 2,002, 5529, 5530, 5531 and 5532 of the revised statutes, and section 15 of the Army Appropriation bill passed June 18, 1878, together with remarks upon the purpose and effect of the latter as stated in the speeches of the Senators and Representatives who supported it. From these laws he says it appears that there can be no military interference with elections, and that consequently there is no necessity for the enactment of section 6 of this bill. He then calls attention to existing laws for the prenvention of discrimination on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude, and to punish fraud, violence and intimidation at Federal elections, and says: In these laws it is the duty of the Executive Department of the Government to enforce. The intent and effect of the sixth section of this bill is to prohibit all civil officers of the United States under penalty of fine and imprisonment, from this purpose at any place where their enforcement is most necessary, viz: at places where Congressional legislation should become the law, there will be no power invested in any officer of the Government to protect from violence the officers of the United States engaged in the discharge of their duties. Their rights and duties under the law will remain but national Government will be powerless to enforce its own statutes. The States may employ both military and civil power to keep peace and to enforce laws at State elections. It is now proposed to deny to the U. S. even necessary civil authority to protect national elections. No sufficient reason has been given for this discrimination in favor of State and against national authority. With regard to the manner in which it is sought to repeal the law authorizing the use of troops at the polls, he says: The object aimed at is altogether foreign to the purpose of an army appropriation bill. The practice of tacking to appropriation bills measures not pertinent to such bills did not prevail until more than forty years after the adoption of the Constitution. It has become a common practice. All parties when in power have adopted it. Many abuses and great waste of public money have in this way crept into appropriation bills. The public opinion of the country is against it. The States which have recently adopted constitutions have generally provided a remedy for the evil by enacting that no law shall contain more than one subject which shall be plainly expressed in its title. The constitutions of nearly all the States contain substantially this provision. Public welfare will be promoted in many ways by the return to early practices of Government and to true principles of legislation, which requires that every measure shall stand or fail according to its own merits. He says this Congress has ample opportunity and time to pass the appropriation bills and also to enact any political measures which may be determined upon in separate bills by the usual and orderly methods of proceeding, but the majority of both Houses have deemed it wise to adhere to principles maintained in the last Congress by the majority of the House of Representatives, namely that the House of Representatives has the sole right to originate bills for raising revenue, and therefore has the right to withhold appropriations upon which the existence of the government may depend, unless the Senate and President shall give their assent to any legislation which the House may see fit to attach to the appropriation bills. To establish this principle is to make radical, dangerous and unconstitutional changes in the character of our institutions; that a majority of the Senate now concurs in the claim of the House adds to the gravity of the situation, but does not alter the question at issue. The new doctrine, if maintained, will result in the consolidation of unchecked and despotic power in the House of Representatives. A bare majority will no longer be what the framers of the Constitution intended—an equal, independent branch of the government. The principle of this bill places, not merely the Senate and Executive, but the judiciary also, under the coercive dictation of the House. The House alone will be the judge of what constitutes a grievance, and also of the means and measures of redress. An act of Congress to protect elections is now the grievance complained of. But the House may, on the same principle, determine that the treaty made by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, nomination or appointment to office, or the decision or opinion of the Supreme Court is a grievance, and that the measure of redress is to withhold the appropriations required for the support of the offending branch of the government. Believing that this bill is a dangerous violation of the spirit and meaning of the Constitution, I am compelled to return it to the House in which it originated, without my approval.

Death of Hón. Eli Shorter.

A LITTLE NEW YORK NEWS.

Whiskey the Cause of so much Crime --Sunday Liquor Law Must be Enforced.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The General Session's Grand Jury made the present report this afternoon, declaring that the most of the crimes that come under their supervision, were caused by intoxicating liquors, and calling on the Police and Excise authorities to enforce the Sunday liquor law, and recommended that future legislation cause licensed houses to close from 11 p. m., to 5 a. m. Attention was called to the fact that the "Herald" and "Express" were violating the lottery laws in publishing lottery advertisements, and the grand jury recommended the matter to their successors, and also the question of safet yon the elevated rail roads.

Matters Before the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—At the Cabinet meeting to-day the quarantine established at New Orleans by Governor Nichols was discussed at considerable length. Complaint is made by shippers of grain from the upper Mississippi valley that the regulations adopted will virtually amount to an embargo upon the shipments of grain to France and Spain. In view of the fact that Congress has the subject before it in the form of a national health bill, it was not deemed advisable for the executive branch of the Government to take any present action in the matter.

Secretary Sherman made a statement as to the action of banks and capitalists in securing the refunding certificates intended to be distributed among the people. It was the general opinion that there could be no method adopted that would secure the object sought to be attained by the Secretary as there were so many methods by which the certificates could be obtained by the moneyed class without any infraction of law.

The Oldest Richmond Printer Dies.

RICHMOND, April 29.—A. M. Bailey, the oldest printer and publisher in this city died to-day; aged 65 years. In 1830 he entered as an apprentice on the old Richmond Enquirer, then under the control of the late father Ritchie, and subsequently was interested in various newspapers, as foreman, manager and owner. He was one of the organizers of, and the first president of the Richmond typographical union. He was one of Richmond's most respected citizens, and he leaves a stainless reputation.

Death of a Princess.

MADRID, April 29.—The death of Princess Christina, second daughter of the Duke De Montpensier, sister of the late Queen Mercedes and cousin of the present King of Spain occurred in Seville at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. King Alfonso goes to Seville to-day. The infant's remains will be placed near those of the Queen. The Escurial court will go into three months mourning.

Barn Burning.

MEMPHIS, April 29.—A telegram from Starkville, Miss., says this morning twenty-four large barns belonging to Jordan Moore, who resides five miles south of this city were burned to the ground. Suspicion points to a negro named Johnson Spencer who was in the employ of Moore and who was arrested for the crime, but on examination acquitted. Last night Moore's other mammoth barn containing wagons provender, agricultural implements etc., was discovered in flames. This time the incendiary was caught who proved to be a negro named Nevlin Parker. He confessed and also implicated Johnson Spencer and others. To-day about one hundred men heard his confession and hung him to a tree.

THE NEGRO STAMPEDE.

Several Thousand Ready to Start---A Destitute Band in Arkansas---Jay Gould Offers Free Transportation Further West.

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—The Colored People's National Immigration Board has received information that several thousand negroes are now at different places along the banks of the Mississippi river below Memphis, ready to start north as soon as transportation can be procured, or are preparing to leave their homes for St. Louis and beyond. One party of nearly one hundred are now at Lake Port, Chicot Co., Arkansas, almost destitute. It is said steamers refuse to transport them, and that the whites in the vicinity refuse to sell them provisions. About two hundred refugees have been sent West since Saturday last. It is understood that Jay Gould has offered free transportation for them west of Kansas City and they will probably go to Lawrence, Kansas.

Sitting Bull a British Subject.

OTTAWA, ONT., April 29.—A special dispatch from Washu to the St. Paul Pioneer, having stated that it had been decided by the Secretaries of War, State and Interior that Sitting Bull is a Bristish subject. Mr. Schultz, Member of Parliament for Manitoba, has given notice that he will on Wednesday ask whether the Government has any knowledge thereof.

No Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Both Houses of Congress adjourned soon after assembling to-day in respect to the memory of the late representative Clarke.

Alexander the First.

TIRNOVA, April 29.—The Bulgarian assembly of notables to-day unanimously elected Prince Alexander to the throne of Bulgaria with the title of Alexander the first.

Meeting of Railroad Men.

Charlotte Observer.

Representatives of railroads in North Carolina held a meeting in Raleigh Saturday for consultation in reference to the law relating freight charges passed by the Legislature. Many vexed questions have arisen in the attempt to arrange the new freight tariffs rendered necessary by the provisions of the law, and the roads are not disposed to decide these without mature codsideration and ample opportunity to obtain trustworthy legal advice on all the points involved. Hence nothing was definitely settled at the last meeting, but the business was so arranged that it may not be necessary to hold another meeting, unless still further complications arise. As soon as the attorneys who have been consulted on the subject shall have examined the case fully, the roads will probably publish their tariffs. In the meantime freights remain the same as they have heretofore been.

The Effect of the Veto.

What the N. Y. Herald Thinks.

What will happen when the veto is announced is as yet uncertain to-night, that either the Democratic wild men will have to give way and take back seats or they will see themselves in a very ridiculous minority.

Whatever blustering there may be on both sides during the next few days; the one certain event is that the appropriation bills will be passed at this session in regular order without the riders, if that is made necessary by voters, and that if this is not done by the democrats as a body it will be done by democratic and republican votes together. It follows that the cry of "revolution" need not bo heeded by anybody. It is an evidence that the republicans would like to carry the next election on a false issue, and that is all. Senator Davis, of Illinois, spoke truly when he said the other day that on any real question both parties would split to pieces at once, and this whole turmoil and thunder is only a device by the leaders of both parties to avoid real questions so as to keep their organizations together a little longer.

THE FANATIC GARRISON.

WHAT HE THINKS OF THE NEGRO EXODUS.

His Flings at the South---A Reign of Wrong---A Subversion of the Constitution.

The following is the text of a letter from William Lloyd Garrison to a meeting in Fanueil Hall, Boston, Thursday: The spectacle of thousands of half-naked empty-handed, despairing men, women and children fleeing as for their lives from one part of the country to another, and preferring to risk starvation and death by the way rather than remain where they naturally belong, is one calculated to move pitying Heaven and to awaken all that is sympathetic and generous in the human breast. Their claims for immediate charitable relief are equally just and imperative; and it is most gratifying to perceive a disposition in various directions to minister to the wants of these poor outcasts. By nothing that they have done, on the score of idleness, dissipation or disorderly conduct, have they brought this suffering and exposure upon themselves. On the contrary, they have been the only industrious, unoffending, law-abiding and loyal portion of the population in that quarter, with but few exceptions; and yet their safety is only in flight!

A DUTY AFTER RELIEF.

While, therefore, grave, exciting and relatively important as the present exodus of a few thousands of colored refugees from Mississippi and Louisiana may be, it is only an incident of the hour, demanding succor and aid in various forms until they have time to select their dwelling-places. But what of the 4,000,000 of colored people in the entire South? Their exilement is a question not to be seriously entertained for a moment, either as a desirable or possible event. The American Government is but a mockery, and deserves to be overthrown, if they are to be left without protection, as sheep in the midst of wolves. If the Nation, having decreed their emancipation, and invested them under the Constitution with all the rights of citizenship, can neither devise nor find a way to vindicate their manhood, then its acts have been farcical, and the local usurpation of a contemptible body of aristocratic factionists is more than a match for the loyalty and strength of the American people; and it is the latter who are as effectually "bulldozed" as the colored people themselves.

But, gracious God! is this widespread escapement from unendurable wrong and outrage to be treated as simply furnishing an occasion for the exercise of a benevolent spirit toward our suffering fellow-creatures? If they are deserving of the deepest commiseration, what shall be said of those by whom they have been "peeled, meted out and trodden under foot?" If there is scope for tender pity on the one hand, is there not also for intense moral indignation on the other? No such stress of circumstances should have been possible under the American Government; nor could it have occurred if we had such a Government, worthy of its name, its pretensions and its claim to universal allegiance. But, so far as the South is concerned, it is practically non-existent in the matter of securing "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," to all who dwell on its soil as a natural and lawful right.

THE SOUTHERN REIGN OF WRONG.

There conspiracy and usurpation successfully bear sway. In all the late Rebel States there scarcely exists a single legitimate State administration, for no election has been permitted without being more or less controlled by fraud, intimidation and lawlessness. The two Senators from South Carolina at Washington, Hampton and Butler, are occupying seats to which they were not honestly elected, and their faces should become crimson every time they enter the Senate chamber. If they had their deserts, instead of presenting their visages in the capitol Hampton would be in the penitentiary, and "Hamburg massacre" Butler be lying in a grave of infamy, according as crimes are adjudged and punished in a civilized community. The political party now tumidly claiming to be rightfully in the ascendant in both houses of Congress, owes its supremacy solely to the support of a "Solid South," made such by fraud, terrorism and murderous violence; and by that "Solid South" it is ruled as abjectly as was ever a plantation slave under the lash of a slave-driver.

FREEDOM'S BATTLE TO BE FOUGHT OVER AGAIN.

It is clear, therefore, that the battle of liberty and equal rights is to be fought over again, not in a party sense in the ordinary use of that term, but by the uprising and consolidating of a loyal, freedom-loving North, overwhelming in numbers, resolute in purpose, invincible in action, and supreme in patriotism based upon impartial justice and all-embracing citizenship. Let the edict go forth, trumpet-tongued, that there shall be a speedy end put to all this bloody misrule; that no disorganizing Southern theory of State rights shall defiantly dominate the Federal Government to the subversion of the Constitution; that the millions of loyal colored citizens at the South, now under ban and virtually disfranchised, shall be put in the safe enjoyment of their rights—shall freely vote and be fairly represented—just where they are located. And let the rallying cry be heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast: "Liberty and equal rights for each, for all, and forever, wherever the lot of man is cast within our broad domains!"

AMONG THE ARPS.

MR. AND MRS. ARP TRY TO SET THEMSELVES RIGHT.

How He Came to Go on His Lecturing Jaunt---Mrs. Arp protests Against the Use of Her Name.

Written for the Atlanta Constitution 27th.

It was my time to go. Mrs. Arp said it was for I looked puny and she thought a small excursion would do me good. A rolling stone gathers no moss and as I dont like moss I concluded to roll. When she went away the motto was a settin hen never gets fat.

For six months Ive stayed right close at home and I felt my feelings was a feeling stagnant. A man can keep on doing a thing untell he settles down in a bed of inertia and dont want to get out of it. By and by he gets deeper and deeper and has to be prised out or else he becomes fossiliferous. Some men get fossiliferous rummin after money and keep on and keep on a long time after they got enuf. Some get fossiliferous in hackerin after offlee and keep on and keep on long after they've played out.

My good wife was a thoughtful observer of my brief preparations. She carefully repaired the shattered linen, got me a fresh handkerchief out of that same old trunk, ironed out the wrinkles in my black cravat, and brought forth a new pair of socks which she knit more than a year ago. When I was all fixed up she perused me with unusal interest and said: "now William, dont forget how to behave yourself for what—with your foolishness in the newspapers and your little slanders of me and the children—you have gotten somewhat notorious and the people will be watching you. Dont you give them any chance to talk about you. Dont gas around. Dont try to show off, and above all things dont go to flying around the women." (I knowed that was a coming.) "If theres anything in the world I do despise it is to see a man with a wife and children making a fool of himself about other women. You wont, will you?"

"I will not my dear," said I, "I never do. Your sweet and patient face is always before me. You are the bright particular star that—"

"Well, never mind the stars," said she, "I haven't got up there yet. Kiss the children a good-by and go along, and I hope you will have a good time."

So I departed those lovely coasts amid the fond embraces of my numerous wife and offspring and now find myself the midst of the central city, where I'm having such an elegant time I don't want to go back—not yet.

I'm sorter like the old cow who had to be pulled by the horns up to the slop pail and pulled by the tail away. I'm delighted with Macon and her refined and intelligent people. There is nothing crowded here and nobody in a hurry. When a horse runs away there is plenty of dodgin room. The heights that surround the city look like Arlington, and are adorned with grand, beautiful residences, where the nabobs live in elegant luxury. Most everybody is rich. The business men wait for trade but don't run after it. When a friend comes to see em they order a carriage, and shut up the store and ride him to Vineville and Arlington and the Central park, and if some other fellow gets the trade while they are gone they don't care a darn. Colonel Hardeman came to see me and was the same genial gentleman he always was. He said there were four important things about Macon that needed the fostering care of the people, and must be protected at all hazzards, which was the blind asylum, the female college, the agricultural society and Hardeman's warehouse. He went off last night to makea speech for the ladies of Thomaston, which his private secretary told me, upon honor, was the 297th since the war. If the ladies could only vote he would be elected governor as long as he lived. I ain't sure but what he's the coming man anyhow, for if our good governor won't run the next time I dont know of anybody who has got more friends. His apple is about ripe. He thought it was several years ago, but I reckon he was mistaken. But its ripe now. Theres a heap of apples on the gubernatorial tree. Some of them are green and sour—some are half rotten. The yaller jackets have bored into some like a slander gimlet; some look mighty smooth and pretty on one side, but have got an ugly flaw on the other, and some are rotten at the core. But the colonel is like a big ripe red round smooth skin apple that hasn't a speck or pimple and smells as sweet as a juicy girl. Some of his friends told me that we must make him govenor—that it was a matter of imminent necessity for the pressure was so great upon him the fear was that he might speak himself to death. They said that it was impossible fer him to dodge it; that he tried various little white lies and prevarications saying that "other previous engagements," etc., but now they wrote him six months, and twelve months, and two years in advance, so as to be in time.

Well, we will all see about it, colonel, and do the very best we can.

BILL ARP.

THE MADAME PAYS HER RESPECTS TO "THAT HUSBAND OF HERS."

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: I've allus hearn it said by them what knowed that the only way to git even with the divil is to fight him with his own fire, an I never exzacly understand jest what wuz the meanin of that proverb afore. We aint never too old to larn, howsomever, an though I'm up in the fiftys, I hed jest now learnt how to git at the kerrect meanin of that old sayin, an I'm agoin to use it for the cause of womans rights. Here Mr. Arp's been infringin on my name so long till I'm troubled nigh on to distrackshun, and its been gittin worse and worse for ten years, till I'm actually afeared to look into a newspaper, kase I might see sumthin agin my good name an my good sense. I hev tried to make him stop it by beggin and teachin an prayin an scoldin an threatnin an every other thing, but it ain't no use. You might jest as well try to make a blind mule quit kickin. My friends hez been advisen me to writ a piece for the newspapers for many a day, an I'm jest through findin out that they hev been tellin me the right thing to do, and if I dont quit even with Mr. Arp you may choke me to death on ingun tops fur a month. I hev tried mighty hard to keep from writin him up in the papers, but women hez feelins jest as well as men, an I dont kere what any body sez agin it, I'm agoin to show Mr. Arp that somebody else can write letters an poke fun at other folks besides him. I don't keer about gettin mixed up in the papers myself, like one of my nabors hez mixed, but I'm jest agoin to show all the folks that I ain't nigh as big a fool as Mr. Arp makes out. Everybody thinks he's powerful smart, and here they've bin invitin him all around to Macon and Dalton and Forsyth and sich pla-ces, to make lectures and give addresses to schools and the like, jest like he was some big man like Mr. Luster or Mr. Felton, and I do believe he's jest common enuff to go ever where they axes him—that is if they pay his way an give him his board with washin throwed in. He makes believe as how he don't want to go off a bit, but I knows him too well for that. If he could git anybody else to sow on buttons, an darn his socks, and tie his cravat an comb his hair an the like, I don't believe he ever would come back agin. But sich is life. We women do hev a hard time. I've been threatened for many a day to take my nabor, Mrs. Freeman's, advice an git devorced, but I'm just afeard he's made everybody think I'm sich a lunacy that I can't even hire out for a washwoman. Why, bless me, he said I didnt even how what good lace was, an I know if theres any woman in Georgia who can tell it bettern me I jest want to see her. I've seed lace all my life. I never did wear any thing but the yellerest kind of lace an I never will to my dyin' day. Mr. Arp he says he didn't mean to hurt my feelin's about that lace, an jest said it to make the folks laff, but I aint agoin to be run down an made a fool of for nobody to laff at. Narry time. This trouble hez been goin on for nigh thirty years, an hev raised ten children, an there aint but one runt in the lot of 'em an he aint too old to grow yet, for he's jest twenty o this month an is as pretty as any gal, an I've worked an sowed an darned an patched for every one of 'em with the old man throwed in an I never get any thanks at all excep to be made a fool of in the newspapers. Mr. Arp is jest a little too upity for his raisin. He's gettin purnickity cause away from home everybody thinks he's perfeckshun perfectorfied, but they am mighty mistaken about that. Just let em step down in the kitchen some morning an hide around an see. I don't want no man foolin around my kitchen, but I can't begin to keep Mr. Arp out of there, so I jest let him do the cookin. You see, he larned how to cook in the army, and he jest thinks there aint nobody as can cook like him. I've been trainin him for many a day, an now I hev him purty well broke in, an he's gettin used to it, and he gits up in the mornin an never says a word agin it, but goes down and starts the fire and goes to gettin breakfast just as natural as anybody, and lets me sleep on till hits ready to eat. Mr. Editur, I love to sleep in the mornin, and whenever Mr. Arp lets me sleep just as long as I want, I begin to feel sorter sorry for him, poor man and I don't think I orter say anything agin him for writen me up in the papers, but jest think of that lace and all my good meanins go right out of my mind. I don't wonder if folks ever will think I know lace, rale lace agin. But I reckin its time to stop, kase I don't want to take a whole side of your paper just to settle family disturbances. I ain't been hard on Mr. Arp, hev I? I'm just a warnin him. If he ever says anything agin me agin, wont you jest scratch it out and stick in somethin again him, and jest let me know what it was he said, an if me an the gals don't pull ever hair out of his head I'll die afore I'm buried, shore. If rasin his hair don't quiet him, you will hear from me agin. Like as I don't know lace. Yours truly. MRS. ARP.

Queen Victoria's Abdication.

London Cor. Dundee Advertiser.

Rumors of a vague but somewhat alarming character have been current for some days with regard to the health of the Queen. I have not hitherto alluded to these reports, but they have become so persistent that it would be useless longer to ignore the existence. It is said that for some time past Her Majesty's health has not been in a very satisfactory state. The death of Duchess of Hesse gave her a shock from which she has not recovered, and the fatigue incident on the celebration of the marriage of the Duke of Connaught exercised a depressing influence on her health. The journey to Italy is not a mere holiday trip. Sir W. Jenner, considered that a change of scene and an almost entire absence from official duty of any kind were necessary for the Queen, and this is the reason why she has buried herself on the secluded shores of an Italian lake. It is no doubt in consequence of the somewhat gloomy statements regarding Her Majesty's health, which are passing in society that other reports connected with the succession to the throne are also current. It is said that unless a considerable change in Her Mer Majesty's health takes place she will no longer be able to discharge the functions which belong to the sovereign of the country, and rumor points to the possibility of an abdication. It is an undoubted fact that since the departure of the Queen for Italy the prime minister has several times seen the Prince of Wales. On Tuesday he had an terview with his royal highness of more than an hour's duration, and the prince would seem to be since to some extent discharging the duties of the Queen with regard to public affairs during her absence in Italy. In a matter where there is necessarily a good deal of speculation it would be idle to make definite statements, but there are those who think that a somewhat startling surprise is in store for Parliment before the present session closes.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company.

It is understood that at the last meeting of the Trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, the committee which has had the subject of retrenchment in expenses under consideration for the past two months, made a report, in which important economies were recommended. The report is stated to have received the unanimous concurrence of the Board.

The principal features of the recommendations made by the committee related to a reduction in salaries, advertising, printing, law, medical and other expenses.

The purpose of the committee is represented to have been, after full consultation with the officers of the company, to so adjust the economies proposed as not to impair in any way the capacity of the institution to conduct its business in the most effective and successfull manner. It is said that the chief officers of the company, including the President, expresse: to the committee a desire that they should participate in any sacrifice that might be deemed advisable, in order to adjust the scale of expenditure to meet any prospective diminution of income from the reduced rate of premiums recently adopted, or from the depressed condition of the money market in causing the rate of interest on investments to recede below existing rates.

As the company has, for many years, computed its surplus upon a basis of an income of four per cent. from investments, it seems pretty well entrenched against any further probable decline in the value of money, so that the economies to be put in practice will result in an augmentation of dividends to the policy-holders, in excess of what they would otherwise have been.

A Negro Found Dead.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Mayor Smith and Alderman Dowd, Wilson and Tatum, the three last named composing the fire committee of the board accompanied by officers of the fire department, visited the houses of each of the two companies, and made a through inspection of these and of all the apparatus. Catawba.

Hickory Press: Wednesday night, April 23rd, two colored convicts, Peter Eaves, of Lincoln, and Robert Shaw, of New Hanover, at the Narrow Gauge stockade near Hickory, had a quarrel, then a fight, which resulted in the death of the latter. Shaw knocked Eaves down, then Eaves struck him in the side with a knife which entered the heart, then cut him again on the arm, in the breast and cut his throat. Shaw died almost instantly. It is said no blame can be placed upon the guard or any officer as the fatal blow was struck before it was known and done so quickly that no disturbance was raised. The boy was buried Thursday in the colored Graveyard in Hickory.

New Hanover.

Wilmington Review. Col. Henry G. Flanner has been selected by the Ladies' Memorial Association as Chief Marshal for Memorial Day and has, we understand, accepted the honor. Col. Flanner was a gallant soldier, having served with much distinction throughout the entire war, and the selection is certainly a most appropriate one.——In compliance with a general order from Adjutant General Jones an election for neid officers of the Fifth Battalion N. C. State Guards was held in this city yesterday.——There are already in this city 16 fire cisterns, with a capacity of 5,440 barrels. Seven more are to be built at once, with a capacity of 2,455 barrels. The cost of the latter is to be $1,700.

Airy is full of life and animation, and is certainly assuming something of its former prosperity.——The Baptist church building is approaching completion, and a handsome edifice it is, and on the prettiest site in Mt. Airy.

No name, in its legendary and historic associations, has a stronger claim on New York than that of "St. Nicholas." The great Metropolis perpetuates and emphasizes this in the standing of the great hotel which illustrates the name of an illustrious patron saint, dear to all from its association with good cheer, enjoyment and hospitality. 'Facile princeps' among the finest metropolitan inns, the "St. Nicholas" sustains the reputation of its long life, and in its rooms, furnishing, cuisine and general accommodations, is now, as ever, the most delightful of resting places for the stranger to the great American capital.

Respites by the Governor.

It appears that owing to false hopes held out to the Chapel Hill burglars, Davis, Andrews and Carlton that their sentences would be commuted, the Governor in order to enable them to better prepare for their bitter end has granted them a respite for two weeks until Friday May the 6th, and the Sheriff of Orange has been requested to say to them that no further interference will be made. This shall be their final doom.

Bob Boswell, colored, who was to be hanged on Friday, May 2 at the earnest solicitation of Solicitor Studwick has been granted a respite until Oct 31 next in order that his testimony may be used in a capital case now pending in Orange Superior court.

A Word to the Ladies.

The ladies of Raleigh will be glad to learn that they can do as well by purchasing dry goods, notions, etc., as can by going from home merchants as they can by sending North by mail every-time they wish to make a few purchases in this line. Our merchants are certainly selling at prices as low as the Northern merchants, and then you know there is nothing like patronizing home industry. Give the merchants a chance say we.

A Regular Regulator.

Mr. John S. Austin, general agent for the famous Simmons Liver Regulator by J. H. Zeilin & Co., of Philadelphia, was in the city yesterday. He represents one of the best standard medicines in the country and illustrates the meaning of the word "push" as much as any gentleman we have ever seen. He is a well "regulated" man and sells the best "regulator" in the trade. "Regulate" yourself accordingly by taking the "Simmons Liver Regulator" you see so regularly advertised all over the city.

Died.

At his residence in this city on the 28th inst at 7:22 o'clock a. m., Mr. John W. O'Neal, formerly of Clayton, N. C. The deceased was in his 55th year. The Funeral will take place from she Edenton St. M. E. Church to-day at 1 o'clock p. m. Friends and relations invited.

HUSSEY & JORDAN, PROPRIETORS

JOHN B. HUSSEY, - - Editor

NEW YORK city has a drinking saloon for every twenty-five male adults. And yet some howling demagogues complain that labor is unemployed.

CHIEF Moses doesn't get along with the Great Father as well as he expected. He expects a great deal. This is one of the "mistakes of Moses" Bob Ingersoll said nothing about.

Now that the sun is out for the summer, we don't notice any considerable diminution in our colored population. The exodus hasn't struck us yet. When it does—yes; when it does, what will we do for intelligent juries?

FIVE hundred and forty-five vessels have already been wrecked this year, at a loss of $2,250,000. This is an increase of one hundred and forty-five vessels as compared with the corresponding period of last year.

THE Secretary of the Treasury showed the other day that he had assets in the Treasury amounting to $514,779,501.03, about $70,000,000 of which he is required by law to pay out as necessary. The Secretary, be it noted, although having an abundance of cash, refuses to pay the soldiers their arrearages of pensions, and is forcing them to await his pleasure.

AID for Archbishop Purcell in his financial embarrassments has at last got beyond the point of sympathetic words. A congregation to which he is indebted in the sum of about a million dollars has remitted one-half of the amount, and it is suggested that other Roman Catholic congregations do likewise.

LEADVILLE, the new Colorado Eldorado, is yet drawing well. Those who have not starved to death on a too steady diet of sage-brush report the walking from Leadville to Pueblo as something terrible. However, most men will tramp a good ways to learn to appreciate home.

THE Republicans boldly declare that the President shall have the right to order soldiers anywhere he pleases in a State and for any purpose, even when the presence of the military is not requested by the State authorities as the Constitution provides. This will not be forgotten in 1880.

IT has always been the general belief that Secretary E. M. Stanton committed suicide. The statement to that effect current in the newspapers shortly after his death was never authentically denied. It is now stated, however, that the testimony of Surgeon General Barnes, who attended him in his fatal illness, as well as that of two other persons who were at his bedside to the last and who prepared the body for the grave, are conclusive that his death was a natural one.

THE Russian Socialists announce in one of their journals that they will come forward with arms in their hands to execute all hangmen, traders and landed proprietors; will spread terror among all of different opinions from themselves, and will destroy everything—persons, things or circumstances—that disturb the work. "Those who are not with us are against us, and must fall under the bullets of our revolvers."

THE German Government has officially denied the allegation that letters from America have been opened by the police for the purpose of procuring political information. The offense in Germany is said to be a felony, and punishable as such. No credence was given to the original charge by the postal authorities at Washington.

THE number of negroes who have received 160 acres of land, mules, seed and implements, with cigars and carriages thrown in, in Kansas, as promised by their Republican friends, has not yet been made out. The fact is, the list will probably never be made out. The negro will have to be patient with his sublimely philanthropic friends.

A TENNESSEE cotton firm, appropriately consisting of ladies, is represented by a female drummer. This is another important step toward's women's rights. The female drummer is more terrible than a combination of the insurance, lightning-rod and sewing-machine agent. The lady in question is meeting with great success. In fact the men "cotton" to her wonderfully, and she sells twice as much as any man on the road.

ENGLISH papers just now teem with those little incidents of rifle practice that enliven American communities, and the comments thereon are as amusingas instructive. The consequence is our uncommercial traveler abroad enjoy an extraordinary and delightful immunity, being supposed to carry at the lowest calculation, two navy revolvers, a bowie-knife in each boot, and a can of nitro-glycerine in the seat of his trousers.

THE Bolivian Government is in th American market for war supplies. Senor Manuel Armayo, a distinguished officer of the army there, has just purchased of the Messrs. Remington some three thousand rifles, of the most approved pattern, at $15 each, cash on delivery. He has also made a contract with the same firm for a large supply of ammunition. Senor A., it is understood will remain in New York as the general purchasing agent of his government until the war in which it is engaged is brought to a close. It is also learned that Peru and Chili will soon be in the American market for a supply of arms and other munitions of war, for which they will in like manner pay cash on delivery.

IN consequence of a decision of the cabinet that none of the lands in the Indian Territory are subject to entry under the homestead and pre-emption acts, and that no authorized settlement can be made there except under the intercourse acts, a letter has been addressed to the Commission of the Indian Affairs by the Secretary of the Interior, stating the law in the case and its construction, and instructing the Commissioner to direct the agents and officers of the Indian service to use their utmost vigilance in the removal of all such unauthorized persons as may attempt to appropriate by settlement the land in question. By the revised statutes the Indian department is empowered to remove from the Indian country all persons found therein contrary to law, and the President is authorized to direct the military force to be employed in such removal.

AN Albany dispatch to the World says there is no longer any reserve among the Republican leaders here as to their campaign intentions. Even Mr. Wadsworth gives in his adhesion to the plan, which is: Grant to hail from Illinois and Don Cameron, of Pennsylvania, for nomination as President and Vice President at a convention in Jue 1880; and also ex-Secretary Hamilton Fish for Governor—as heretofore announced in the World—and Mr. Sloan for Lieutenant Governor next autumn. Senators Robertson and Pomeroy and Assemblymen Husted and Alvord, who have been candidates more or less for either of these places, have announced their cordial adhesion to the programme.

A GERMAN newspaper was prosecuted for "insulting" Prince Bismarck, and is now prosecuted a second time on a similar charge, because it published the speeches for the defense in the trial. If it describes the trial about to come off a third prosecution may be expected, and so on ad infinitum. There seems to be a strong rivalry between Germany and Russia as to which shall do the most to encourage emigration, though Russia's master-stroke of appointing military governors has doubtless placed it ahead in the race.

THE Louisville-Courier Journal regards the colored exodus from the South as a political trick, and, in urging Congressman Whitthorn to press his resolution to investigate this emigration movement, says:

"This whole "exodus" scheme is a piece of scoundrelism. The monsters who are at the bottom of it know perfectly well what they are about. They have for their object the falsification of the next census. The "exodus" scheme is a census movement purely. The negro is simply to be used, as the Republicans have always used him, as so much fuel to fan the flame of sectional strife and hate, regardless of his fate. As a trick it is the worst yet: a base-born, black hearted piece of barbarous cruelty which every villian who supports it knows to be infamous and inhuman."

The bill to give members of the cabinet seats in Congress on certain days, entitles members of the cabinet "to participate in debates on matters relating to the business of their respective departments, under such rules as may be prescribed by the Senate and House, respectively," but the rules proposed seem to restrict the cabinet to answering questions asked, without argument. It would probably make a difference to the cabinet whether they were to act as participants in a discussion or as witnesses to be examined. Except by unanimous consent three days' notice of any request for information on any of the heads of the departments is to be given. With this fact in view it would seem that the proposition is merely to require the cabinet officers to give to Congress orally the answers to inquires which they now give in writing. It may be questioned whether the experiment in this shape is worth the trying, unless it be as a preliminary to the granting of larger privileges to members of the cabinet, after the system is fairly introduced.

MICHIGAN has undertaken to establish an agricultural school for girls, and twelve thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Legislature to set it on foot. It is a step in a new direction, and if the knowledge to be taught in the school tends to make the girls better farmers' wives, the money will be well spent. As a rule, agricultural schools and colleges for boys are not a success. They furnish a certain number of pupils with an education more or less good in the ordinary branches of learning, but of the science of farming or its practical pursuit they teach very little. What the girls of the Michigan school are to learn we do not at present know; but the principal duties of a farmer's wife being those that relate to the management of the dairy and the household, it is to be presumed that the school will give instruction looking to make the pupils more useful in these and kindred ways. If it accomplish this, and show how country homes may be beautified in simple yet attractive ways, it will do good work.

THE Paris correspondent of the Nation, in writing of the finances of Paris, shows that the citizens of Paris pay dearly for the privilege of having the finest capital in Europe. The annual burden of municipal debt is now $20,-005,956, the capital being $397,423,229. The origin of this debt is to be found chiefly in the extravagance of the Second Empire and M. Haussmann's mania for new houses and new boulevards and streets. After 1852 loan after loan was emitted by Paris, and since 1871 the Municipal Council has contracted two great loans having a combined capital of 877,196,000. The municipal taxes of Paris amount to $22.40 per capita, counting every inhabitant, both male and female. The annual budget of Paris amounts to $41,200,000, of which sum something more than $25,000,000 is collected at the gates of the city in the shape of an entrance tax on the necessities of life, this tax being known as the octroi. Clearly the gay capital pays roundly for its splendors.

A Hard Bargain for the North.

Washington Post.

The bargain between the sections, as at present understood, is that the South shall dictate the nomination of Grant in the Radical national convention, and then amiably retire to let the North struggle with the hopeless task of electing him.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons; passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpid liver, causes the liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaints is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

LUNGS

The fatality of Consumption or Throat and Lung Diseases, which sweep to the grave at least one-third of all death's victims, arises from the Opium or Morphine treatment, which simply stupefies as the work of death goes on. $10,000 will be paid if Opium or Morphine, or any preparation of Opium, Morphine or Prussic Acid, can be found in the GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP, which has cured people who are living to-day with but one remaining lung. No greater wrong can be done than to say that Consumption is incurable. GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP will cure it when all other means have failed. Also, Colds, Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Read the testimonials of the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, Gov. Smith and Ex-Gov. Brown of Ga., Hon. Geo. Peabody, as well as those of other remarkable cures in our book, free to all at the drug stores, and be convinced that if you wish to be cured you can be by taking the GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP. Take no Troches or Lozenges for Sore Throat, when you can get GLOBE FLOWER SYRUP at same price. For sale by all Druggists.

Price 25 Cts. and $1.00

BLOOD

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerous Sores and Skin Disease in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury eats the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. DR. PEMBERTON'S STILLINGIA AND QUEEN'S DELIGHT is the only medicine upon earth that gives hope of recovery from Scrofula, Syphilis, Mercurial diseases in which the system has been unmercifully pounded, and the use of Mercury. $10,000 will be paid by the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely vegetable and harmless can be found in it. Price by all Druggists. GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP and MERRELL'S HEPATINE for sale by all Druggists in 25 cent and $1 00 bottles. Made up in the very latest style, sold from $2.25 up to $10.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

A Report of the Senior Speaking---A Fine Exhibition of Talent.

Correspondence of the NEWS.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, April 25.

The exercises Friday evening were opened with an oration by Mr. G. T. Pritchard, of Richmond, Va. His subject was the "Nineteenth Century." He painted it as a glorious era, and by his knowledge of history and power of making comparisons, found even more beauties in it than the casual observer would detect. Mr. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh discussed the merits of the world's illustrious "Literati." Judging by his already undisputed acquisitions, Mr. Jones will no doubt fill an enviable position among the learned men of his country. He is a very elegant speaker. Mr. J. T. J. Battle of College Hill tried to prove that "Wisdom Must be Sought." He made a very good speech and succeeded very well in impressing the truth declared by his subject upon the minds of his audience. Mr. J. F. McMillan, of Robeson county, presented a glowing picture of "After Clouds, Sunshine." When this gentleman appears on the rostrum his friends expect something good and he never disappoints them. His oration on the present occasion was a very fine one and he acquitted himself handsomely, and added a fresh laurel to his fame as a student orator. Mr. G. P. Hamrick, of Cleveland county, had for his subject "Be Careful What You do and Say:" He appeared quite at home on the rostrum and by his occasional "sparklings" of wit secured the attention of the audience. Mr. R. P. Johnson of Chatham county, contended that "Self-acting and Self-thinking Men are the Need of this Age." He brought indisputable proof to the support of his propositions, and although this is an accepted truth he presented it so forcibly to the minds of those who heard him that they were naturally led to reflect on it more than usually. Mr. E. F. Aydlett of Camden county, showed the folly of "Castles in the Air." He delivered a very fine oration which shows him to be a young man of much intellectual culture. Mr. C. S. Vann, of Winton, had for his subject "Want of Success." He says that he received more flowers than any member of the class. This is the highest encomium that can be passed on him and virtually proves that he did not suffer from "want of success." Mr. C. A. Rominger, of Salem, delivered an oration on "Happiness." His speech was a success, as we feel he will make everything which he touches. Mr. W. L. Wright, of Troy, discoursed upon "Humility." His speech shows fine powers of analysis and the discussion of his subject was presented in his usual clear and forcible style. The exercises were closed with an oration by Mr. N. Y. Gulley, of Johnson county, who with his nice knowledge of logic, satisfactorily proved that "No Nation can long be Prosperous that has Ceased to be Virtuous." Mr. Gulley did not surprise anybody by doing well for it would be utterly incongruous with his fine attainments for him to do otherwise.

A Sale Not a Sale.

Newbern Nutchell.

Amiable shop-keepers deserve to be cannonized. Here is an illustration of the trials to which they are subjected. One midsummer day, when Æolus slept, and the thermometer stood in the nineties, a lady entered a store not a thousand miles off, and inquired for parasols. The obliging proprietor spread out before her samples of a large and varied stock.

"Have you any this shade a size larger?" said the lady.

This was produced.

"I think on the whole I prefer the size smaller."

The size smaller was presented.

"Have you any of this size a lighter shade of blue."

The required shade was brought out.

"Haven't you any of this kind with a crooked handle?"

The shade with the crooked handle appeared.

"Have you any with the crooked handle not quite so heavy?" said the lady, and so continued her inquiries for every conveivable size, shade and weight possible in the line of parosols.

After nearly an hour had been consumed the shopper gathered up her handkerchief and gloves, and moved for the door.

"Can't I sell you a paraso.?" inquired the exhausted proprietor.

"Oh, dear no," replied the lady, "I was merely inquiring the prices. I am going into mourning myself, and have one for sale."

Not Guilty.

Memphis Avalanche.

If brains were considered deadly weapons all the courts and laws in Christendom would fail to make an indictment stick to the average congressman.

They Seem to go Together.

New Haven Register.

Are pistols and the Booth family inseparable? It would seem so.

What it Costs.

Chicago Tribune.

Every speech made in Congress costs the country about $5,000 cash, not to mention the annoyance of reading it.

When the Cushions Shall Have Worn.

Courier-Journal.

The rulers that make their seats of bayonets will have to sit on them all the same when the cushions shall have worn a bit.

What to Do.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Republican party declares that the Federal soldier must be the controlling fact at elections. Let them appeal to the people on that issue.

Which of the Twain?

Cleveland Herald.

It is a question of whether the country or the Forty-sixth Congress will wear out first. It is a sort of pedestrian match, as it were.

Splitting the Difference

Detroit Free Press.

A young man with the blush of country life on his cheeks sold out his produce on the market yesterday and entered a shoe store and said he wanted a pair of shoes for his wife.

"What number?" asked the clerk.

The young husband scratched his head, looked very much embarrassed: and finally said:

"Well, I've been married eight months, but this shoe business stumps me. I don't hardly believe she wears levens, and I don't think she kin git into fives. I guess if we split the difference we'll hit her pretty close."

He was gives a pair of eights, and after squinting along the soles he observed:

"I guess them'll do. She's awful proud, and I know she'll squeeze into 'em for all she's worth."

Trains Running to Swannanoa Gap.

The Charlotte Observer of yesterday says: Yesterday trains on the Western North Carolina road ran to the east end of the Swannanoa tunnel, or in other words to the top of the mountain. The distance from there to Asheville is only about eighteen miles and this road is now first rate. Passengers leaving Charlotte on the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, at 7 o'clock in the morning, arrive in Asheville a little after 8 o'clock the same evening.

TUTT'S PILLS IMPART APPETITE.

Dr. Tutt has succeeded in combining in these pills the heretofore antagonistic qualities of a STRENGTHING, PURGATIVE, and a PURIFYING TONIC.

Their first apparent effect is to increase the appetite by causing the food to properly assimilate. Thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the digestive organs, regular and healthy evacuations are produced.

The rapidity with which PERSONS TAKE ON FLESH while under the influence of these pills, indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, melancholy, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health & strength to the system. Sold everywhere.

Price 25 cents.

Office 53 Murray Street, NEW YORK.

VEST POCKET CURE 25 DYSPEPSIA 25 CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE.

It is an excellent corrective of Indigestion I have used it with prompt beneficial results

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.

I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.)

It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Bolt. Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

R v Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to others suffering with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protection from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable

J D Eggleston, M D, Va

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate

This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by Pescud, Lee & Co., and Williams & Haywood.

——Mr. N. S. Mosely had a very nice red mooly cow. She strayed away Sunday and he has not heard from her since. He will give a suitable reward for her return to him.

——The funeral ceremonies of the late Jno. W. O'Neill formerly of Clayton will take place from Edenton Street M. E. church to-day at one o'clock.

——Mr. Justice Barbee is displaying commendable zeal in the enforcement of the tax warrants, a large number of which are in his hands for collection.

——There will be released from the Penitentiary on the 29th, Harriett Green (col.) convicted in Wake county of larceny and sentenced to the penitentiary May 1878. She is about 2 years old, 5 ft. 2 in. high and weighed when admitted 134 lbs.

Died.

At the residence of her father, Judge Strong, on the evening of April 28th, Sallie Stone, wife of W. H. Hicks, aged twenty-five years.

The funeral service will take place this morning from the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The International Postal Card.

The Postoffice Department has approved a design for the new international two-cent postal card. On the upper left hand corner are the words "Union Postal Union, United States of America" in English and also in French. On the right upper corner is the stamp, with the head of Liberty, surrounded by a ribbon border, with a monogram U. S. at the top, and buckle at the bottom, and the figure 2 in octagon blocks on either side. In the upper half of the circle are the words "Postal Card," and in the lower half "Two Cents." The card has also a neat border on the address side.

A May Day Fish.

A fishing excursion has been arranged to leave this city on the 1st day of May.

The party will be under charge of Captains John Horton and Mr. Wilson, and will leave the N. C. R. R. depot at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning, and will proceed to Gaston, on the R. & G. R. R., where the party will have an abundance of fishing fun and frolic. The rock fish and sturgeon abound in the Roanoke at this time, and a rare opportunity will be afforded those who enjoy the sport of ensnaring the sportive denizens of the now placid stream.

A special coach for the ladies will be provided, and a more pleasant trip could not well be made.

The fare for the round trip is only $1.50.

Sir Titus Salts.

The manufacture of English black dress goods obtained so much favor in the sight of Queen Victoria, that her Majesty on one occasion conferred the honor of Knighthood on Mr. Salts, a leading manufacturer of the fabric. Ever since that time the English black bombazine has had a wide spread reputation. Heretofore the process of washing destroyed much of the beauty and finish of these goods, but a certain English manufacturer has obviated this, and now furnishes an article that loses none of its glossy color from the ruthless hands of the washerwoman. Messrs. L. H. Yeargan, Petty & Jones, who are so prompt to keep up with the march of progress in their line of trade, have a large and elegant assortment of these goods, and take great pleasure in displaying them to the ladies. "For Spring and Fall wear they cannot be surpassed," politely answered the Major to the reporter's impertinent question. "It is one of the greatest achievments in the manufacture of black dress goods."

WASHINGTON.

The Status of the Legislative Appropriation Bill—Some Complimentary Words for Col. Steele—Mr. Doorkeeper Field.

Correspondence of the News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—The House passed the Legislative Apropriation bill by a strict party vote, the Greenbackers voted with the Democrats except Pig Iron Kelley of Pa., and Barlow of Vermont. It will go to the Senate this week, and probably a week or ten days will be consumed in worthless debates in that body before a vote is taken. The Army bill is on the President's table as it passed on last Friday. A large number of prominent Republicans called on Hayes Friday to brace his spinal column for the veto. David Davis of Illinois, is now classed by the Republicans as a Democrat; he is no longer the middle-man of the Senate, since his speech last week on the Army bill, and his vote Friday in favor of the repealing clause.

Congress has been in session ever since the 18th of March, and passed one or two unimportant bills, while the time has been lost in making many windy partizan speeches. The House in moments of rashness adjourns from Saturday until Tuesday to prevent the introduction of bills. Some of the most important measures for the relief of the country, are being overlooked by this penny-wise and pound-foolish policy of the Democracy.

It would be well enough for a thinking people, who vote for members of Congress, to look and work in their interest, to watch the present moments of the extra session of the Fourth Congress, and see who are the country's best friend.

A COMPLIMENT TO MR. STEELE.

A Washington special dispatch to the Kansas City Times, one of the liveliest and best edited papers in the West, says of representative Steele's speech, "out of the great number of speeches delivered in the House on the two appropriation bills, that made by Steele of North Carolina, was the best of any member from the South. It ought to be read by every woman, man and child North, South, East and West. It was bold and manly; courteously sarcastic, cutting whereever it touched like a polished blade of the sharpest steel. The vindication of his State was truly patriotic and statesmanly. Since the retirement of Martin I. Townsen from Congress, Steele wears the belt for wit and humor. He is one of the most popular members in the House, every body likes him personally, even the most bitter radicals admire his open, blunt and candid manner." And closes by saying, he is the head of his delegation.

DOORKEEPER FIELD OF THE HOUSE.

As but little is known to the political world of his history, it may not be amiss to give a brief pen-picture of his former life and services. To those who are familiar with military history, his record is plain and bright. Gen. Charles W. Field was born in the State of Kentucky, and was appointed a cadet to the Military Academy at West Point from that State. After graduating at that institution, he was assigned to duty in the regular army, as an officer in a cavalry regiment. At the commencement of the late war between the States, he was captian of Cavalry in the 5th regiment, which was commanded by Gen. Robert E. Lee, as colonel. In 1861 he resigned his commission in the United States army and went South. His first commission in the Confederate service was the rank of colonel, and assigned to command the 6th Virginia cavalry. Was soon promoted to a Brigadier of Infantry. Lee recognized in him all the qualities of a brave and skillful officer, and for meritorious conduct on the field he was promoted to Major General. When Lonstreet was wounded at the Wilderness, he assumed command of his corps and forced the enemy to make his flank movement. At the surrender of Lee's army, at Appomattox, his command numbered nearly one-third of Lee's entire force. This is attributable to his thorough discipline and good management. His men loved him as a leader and were ever ready to obey his commands. After the close of the war he entered the service of the Khedive of Egypt, serving as brigadier general. Was in several battles in the Affaghistan war. In 1877 when the Khedive decided to dispense with American officers, Gen. Field returned to the United States, remaining in private life until March, 1878. When John Polk was dismissed as Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives, he became a candidate for the position. He soon met with encouragement from such sterling and worthy members as Cook of Georgia, Scales of North Carolina, Forney of Alabama, Hunten of Virginia, Gibson of Louisian, Hooker of Mississippi, Cobell of Virginia, and a number of other leaing representatives who had served with him in the army. He was elected by a two-thirds vote to fill the unexpired term of Polk in the 45th Congress. The administration of the affairs of his office had been conducted in such a highly satisfactory manner, both to himself and the party which placed him in position, that at the organization of the extra session of the 46th Congress, he was elected without opposition. The same system of order, exactness and discipline which charcterized him as a soldier in military life follows in his political management of his office. He is not a politician, but an officer ever true to his trust. It is conceded by all parties, that he makes the best Doorkeer that has held the place for the past two decades. To the stranger, he appears blunt and uncourteous, reserving much of the military air. But as you learn to know him that measurably passes away, and as a friend of his said the other day, "'tis only Field's way, he means nothing by it." The Democratic party can make no mistake in keeping him as one of their officers. He took the position when it had been disgraced by three former Democratic Doorkeepers, and to-day it is the best managed department under the House of Representives.

THE KANSAS SENATORIAL SCANDAL.

A short time since there were several severe news-paragraphs going the rounds of the press, that Senator Ingalls of Kansas, would be dismissed from the Senate on account of a certain charge preferred against him by members of the legislature. It turns out that the charges are entirely groundless, based on malice and disappointed on the part of a few corrupt, bad men, when Ingalls refused to aid in some of their corrupt schemes. We have talked with several intelligent members of that legislature, who are Democrats and opposed Ingalls, and also Republicans who opposed him, and the bottom facts are about as stated above. Ingalls is a bitter partizan, but not a corrupt or bad man. Several Democratic Senators say that he is the best man that Kansas can send; they don't expect anything but a Republican from there, and of the least of evils prefer Ingalls. J. M. H.

A Celebrated Sauce.

Forty years or so ago Lea & Perrins began the manufacture of Worcestershire Sauce. It quickly became a favorite Sauce on account of its peculiar piquancy, and when Mr. Sour, the celebrated chef-de-cuisine of the Reform Club, gave it his approval, its appearance on the Tables of all the other clubs of London followed as a matter of course. Then its use was began in the cuisine of the leading Hotels in all parts of the world. Wandering Englishmen carried it about with them in all kinds of climates, and found to their delight that long voyages on shipboard did not impair, in the least, its flavor or pungency. It was literally 'presented to the Queen' in 1846, and on the strength of this was admitted without question to every house in London. This honor did not cause the opinion of epicures to change in the least, as they had already dicovered its good qualities. One of them said in 1843, "that it had destroyed the force of the adage," appetite makes the best sauce, and his friends thought the remark just as well as witty. Nowadays the zest it imparts to all dishes, from Turtle and Salmon to plain beef, makes it a favorite with young housekeepers as well as with epicures.

The Death Rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignficant organ. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23d, 1879.

Rev. J. D. Parker, of New Orleans, La., writes: "Having tried effectually the 'Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass,' for Diarhea, Kidney afflictions, &c., I take pleasure in recommending its use in these complaints. In my case it affords immediate relief.
J. D. PARKER."

meets a want long felt Flour having both color and strength. Its whiteness cannot fail to please the most fastidious taste, while its glutinous properties insure a light and nutritious bread. The advance in the art of milling, by which Patent Flour is made, ough last established in the South, is here much needed—by housekeepers, to make up for culinary shortcomings; by bakers, to give strength and quality to the variable and inferior grades, which can only be used to advantage by mixing with and when the fact is realized that the cost of one dollar more per barrel amounts in their daily consumption of three or four pounds to a difference of one and a half or two cents, they will hardly regard the additional expenditure an extravagance. To few people buying Flour by the barrel does it occur that this important article of human food, used at every meal, costs less per day than almost any other on their bill or fare.

Of our

we can confidently say they are unsurpassed by any other brands to be had for the same price; and will certainly give entire satisfaction to those who do not fancy paying the figures which Patent Flour must command to induce its manufacture.

Our fixed Policy is to Keep the Flour Represented by Our Brands to a High Standard of Quality.

In addition to the usual packages—barrels and half-barrels—we are now putting it in bags equa to the half, quarter, eighth, and sixteenth of a barrel.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spir
